

Morning Workshops: 10:45– 12:00 noon.

(Choose one and an alternate)

1. Ministry for Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities

Learn from a mother who has learned through her child how to share ministry. Leave with many ideas and ways to engage every child and adult in the ministry of your church.

Gwen Carr, Teaching Elder

2. Music and Worship for Small Congregations

What is different in planning music for a small congregation as opposed to a larger congregation?

Bonny Wilson, Ruling Elder

3. Cloud of Witnesses: The Community of Christ in Hebrews (PW Bible Study)

The community for which the letter, or homily, was written interacts, in a sense, with all communities of which we are a part, as we bring these groups with us wherever we go. Come and get ideas for leading your Bible Study this year.

Anne Ross and Ann Held, Teaching Elders

4. Preventing Addiction Through Resilience (part one)

This workshop is a one-hour documentary that delves into the science of Adverse Childhood Experiences and the birth of a new movement to treat and prevent Toxic Stress, which is now understood to be one of the leading causes of everything from heart disease and cancer to substance abuse.

Malissa Swartz, Licensed Professional Counselor

5. Disaster Preparedness

Is your church ready for disasters such as a fire, flood, or burglary? This workshop will give you information, ideas, and tools to have a plan to help you and your church to be more prepared for the unthinkable.

Dave and Carolyn Thalman, Ruling Elders

6. How We Read Scripture

This workshop will explore what we believe about the authority of scripture and tools used in interpreting it. How we understand scripture is important for every issue we face as individuals, church, session, and presbytery.

The Rev. Dr. Roy Martin
Transitional Presbyter and Stated Clerk

Option- Walk in the Labyrinth- Learn the history and significance of using a labyrinth as part of your devotional life.

Clayton Rascoe, Executive Director of Massanetta Springs and wife, Kate Rascoe

Afternoon Workshops: 1:10 – 2:25 p.m.

(Choose one and an alternate)

7. PW: What Works?

Some churches today do not have an organized or active PW circle for various reasons. Come hear from some ladies who do have active groups and are willing to share their ideas with you.

A Panel of Experts

8. Ministry of Resilience: Theology and Practice of Mercy and Grace in the Midst of the Opioid Crisis

This workshop will focus on the practical considerations for Presbyterian ministries of deliverance and prevention particularly with reference to the current drug crisis in Appalachia. Participants will leave with the basic skills and resources necessary to establish and pursue resilience work in their own congregations and communities.

Rufus Burton and John Bethard, Teaching Elders

9. Child and Youth Protection Policy- What is it?

We are called to protect the most vulnerable in our churches: children, youth, and vulnerable adults. We are required by the Book of Order to have such policies in place. But where do we begin? This workshop will give information on what needs to be in a policy, and good resources.

Rev. Nancy Meehan Yao
Associate General Presbyter

10. Refugee Resettlement

In this difficult time for Refugees, what is the role of the Church?

Jim Hershberger, Ruling Elder

11. Clerks of Session Training

This workshop is for all clerks and ministers who need to learn or get a refresher course on how to effectively keep minutes and records of the Session.

The Rev. Dr. Martin
Transitional Presbyter and Stated Clerk

12. Doing a New Thing

In this workshop you will learn to listen to the spirit to discern in what new ways God may be leading us.

Led by the Committee on New Church Development
and Rev. Rachel Crumley

13. Celebrating Special Life Events

What makes our celebrations unique?

Mary Lou Cox, Ruling Elder

Morning Worship

"I think (The Big Event) is one of the most obvious good things the Presbytery does to support the churches. I feel that one of the special things about the Big Event is that the day is somehow greater than the sum of its parts."
